ROOSEVELT READY TO PREPARE THE BUDGET FOR N. Y.

Refreshed After First Good Sleep in Many Weeks of Campaign

TO CURB EXPENSES

Determined to Leave State in Sound Financial Condition

(By William I. Borst)
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 10.—(INS)—Refreshed after a good night's sleep—the first he has had in many weeks of strenuous campaigning—President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt today was prepared to plunge into the work which falls upon the shoulders of New York's Governor in preparing the State's new budget.

He is faced with the necessity of curbing State expenditures from $50,000,000 to $75,000,000 if his successor, Colonel Herbert H. Lehman, who will assume the Governorship on January 1, is to escape recommending new or higher taxes to the 1933 Legislature.

The President-elect is determined to leave the New York government in sound financial condition when he turns the reins over to Colonel Lehman on New Year's Day and he already has served notice on State department heads that their requests for funds for the ensuing fiscal year will be "cut to the bone."

The present budget topped the $300,000,000 mark and the State was compelled to boost the personal income tax, the gasoline tax and impose a higher levy on motor trucks. Mr. Roosevelt has made up his mind that the next budget must be drastically reduced, even if some of the State's activities are curtailed or abandoned.

From now until the end of the year Mr. Roosevelt intends to devote all of his time to the governorship, although he frankly admits that he probably will not be able to take himself entirely out of the national atmosphere. "I'm going to be Governor of New York right up to January 1, and then I will begin to think about other things," he said. "Preparing the next budget is going to be plenty or work for a while."

He only smiles when asked if he intends to call a special session of Congress immediately after March 4 to consider tariff revision and modification of the Volstead law in the event that nothing is done about prohibition at the forthcoming short session. His advisors insist he will not give any thought to the selection of his cabinet until after the first of the year.

Tomorrow afternoon the President-elect will motor to his Hyde Park home where he will "lock himself in," as he described it, and spend the week-end alone with his family. Returning to the Capitol next Tuesday he will resume preparation of the budget. Later this month he will go to Warm Springs, Ga., for a week's vacation.

Mr. Roosevelt arrived at the executive mansion shortly after 10 o'clock last night, after motoring through a driving rain from New York.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(INS)—The election of record-shattering Democratic majorities to the new Congress today gave the South a control over legislation in the first two years of the Roosevelt administration.

As a result of their party's smashing victory at the polls, Southern Democrats will dominate virtually every important committee in both House and Senate. Southern legislators will sit as chairmen of committees controlling all appropriations, all new taxes and all legislation affecting the currency.

The extent of the Democratic victory in Congressional elections shattered all previous records. The Democrats will have a clear majority of at least 177 and possibly 189 in the House. The new House now lines up: 306 Democrats, 118 Republicans and 11 contests in doubt. The greatest previous party majority was 167 held by the Republicans after the election of 1920.

The Democrats elected 28 of their candidates in 34 senatorial elections. The new Senate will line up: 59 Democrats, 36 Republicans, 1 Farmer-Laborite. This majority the Democrats matched but once in history—back in 1855—and their plurality was the largest in their party's career.

The election naturally brought a greater upset to the Senate than to the House. In the Senate, the Republicans were swept out of power and after March 4, Democrats will take over all the committee chairmanships.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—(INS)—More than one-third of the people of the country—over 40,000,000 in all—will live in States having no prohibition enforcement laws as a result of the wet avalanche in Tuesday's election. The State laws were knocked out in referendum elections where the question of continuance of State prohibition was voted on.

BARBOUR GAINS

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 10.—Out of apparent defeat which he himself conceded at one time, United States Senator W. Warren Barbour, Republican, today emerged apparently certain of victory in his contest for re-election in one of the most spectacular election races in this state. Late returns today gave him a lead of 8430 votes, over Percy H. Stewart, Democrat, who, with an early piled up margin of 100,000 plurality, considered himself assured of election. With only 29 districts out of 341 missing, and those almost conclusive strong Republican areas, the slowly arriving returns early today stood: Barbour, 727,234; Stewart, 718,804.

GETS NOBEL PRIZE

London, England, Nov. 10.—John Galsworthy, noted British novelist and dramatist, has been awarded the Nobel prize for literature. It was stated in an exchange telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen today.

MAY BAR ATHEISTS

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 10.—Atheists may be barred by courts in this state from acting as witnesses in criminal trials. Presiding judges were vested with discretionary power in the matter under a ruling of the New Jersey Supreme Court.

Bucks Publishing Company Bought by Plaintiff in Writ

The plant of the Bucks Publishing Company, 110 Radcliffe street, was sold at sheriff's sale this morning to Howard I. James, attorney, for $2,000. Mr. James acted for the plaintiff in the writ, Warren-Balderson, Trenton, N. J. The bid was made for the entire plant after it had been bid up to $1207.25 on the individual articles.

HULMEVILLE

The November business and social meeting of the M. E. Epworth League will be held Monday evening at the home of the Misses Grace H. and Clara L. Hilck.

Hulmeville Scout Cubs will commence meetings next week, having a session at the Methodist Church Monday evening at seven, under leadership of Harold H. Haefer.

MEETING NOTICES ARE ADMISSION TICKETS

Post Cards Must Be Presented at Fathers' Meeting
Tonight

MAY TAKE FRIENDS

Attention is called to the meeting of the Bristol Fathers' Association which is to be held in the high school auditorium this evening at eight o'clock. The meeting is for members of the Association only and the post cards that have been sent to the members announcing the meeting, will be the ticket of admission. Members are permitted, however, to bring a friend if they intend to join the Association tonight.

The dues of the Association are $1.50 per year payable in advance. When a new member desires to join he simply pays $1.50, and this includes his dues for the balance of the year. As an example, a new member who joins tonight and pays his entrance fee of $1.50, is paid up in full until the first of September, 1933, which is the beginning of the new fiscal year. A special request is made to all members who are delinquent, to pay their dues as promptly as possible. The Association is unable to make any plans for the future until it knows just what income it will have.

In the past it has been found that the best attended and most interesting meetings have been those when sporting events have been the main feature. With a desire to cater to this desire of the men, a splendid sports program has been arranged for tonight. The feature will be a couple of wrestling bouts between well known contestants. The main bout will be between Paul Kochansky and Roy Haldeman, the latter being the light heavyweight champion of Pennsylvania. In the second bout, John Belank will meet "Bob" Gerhardt, of Ohio. All these men are well known, having wrestled in the Camden Armory, and the Philadelphia convention hall.

In addition to the wrestling bouts, there will be an interesting musical program. The Fathers' Association Orchestra will be present and render a number of selections. There will also be vocal selections by well known local artists. At the conclusion refreshments will be served.

COUNTY SCHOOLS WILL HOLD SPEECH CLINICS

Services of Dr. Frank Hipps
Have Been Secured

DATES ARE ANNOUNCED

A survey made by the office of county school superintendent, J. H. Hoffman, this school term shows that 282 children in the schools of Bucks county have speech defects of some type, either as stammering, stuttering, lisping, or some other impediment.

A statement follows:
"In order to help these unfortunate children, as well as to help the teachers in treating these cases, we have secured Dr. Frank Hipps, president, Byron King School of Oratory, Pittsburgh, Pa., to hold clinics at the following places and times:

"Tuesday, Nov. 15, 9-12 a. m., Sellersville-Perkasie High School.

"Tuesday, Nov. 15, 1-4 p. m., Quakertown High School.

"Wednesday, Nov. 16, 9-12 a. m., Newtown High School.

"Wednesday, Nov. 16, 1-3 p. m., New Hope High School.

"Thursday, Nov. 17, 9-12 a. m., Morrisville High School.

"Thursday, Nov. 17, 1-4 p. m., Bensalem Twp. High School.

"Friday, Nov. 18, 9 a. m.-3 p. m., Doylestown High School.

"Saturday, Nov. 19, 9 a. m.-12, Doylestown.

"We would suggest that the pupils who are thus affected report to the following places:

"Sellersville-Perkasie—Pupils from Sellersville, Perkasie, Hilltown, E. Rockhill, W. Rockhill, Bedminster, Dublin, Silverdale, and Telford.

"Quakertown—Pupils from Quakertown, Richland Twp., Richlandtown, Springfield and Milford.

"Newtown—Pupils from Newtown, Newtown Twp., Northampton, Upper Makefield, Wrightstown, Langhorne.

"Morrisville—Pupils from Morrisville, Falls, L. Makefield, and Yardley.

"Bensalem—Pupils from Bensalem, Bristol Twp., Lower Southampton, Upper Southampton, Warmminster and Hulmeville.

"New Hope—Pupils from New Hope.

"Doylestown (Friday)—Doylestown, Doylestown Twp., Buckingham, New Britain, Plumstead, Warrington, Wycombe, Tinticum and Solebury pupils.

"Doylestown (Saturday)—Pupils from Riegelsville, Darham and Bridge-ton.

"Should it be more convenient for the pupils to be brought to any of the other centers, this may be done.

"We would also suggest to the various school boards that they permit their teachers to close their schools a half day when they bring their pupils to the clinic, keeping the school in session the other half day, and count it as a full day taught. Teachers could make arrangements with the parents of these children to bring them to the clinic. In this way, both teachers and parents will get the benefit of the instruction given by Dr. Hipps.

Dr. Hipps will also give three recitals on the play of Hamlet at the following places:

Monday, Nov. 14, 7:30 p. m., Quakertown High School.

Thursday, Nov. 17, 7:30 p. m., Newtown High School.

Friday, Nov. 18, 7:30 p. m., Doylestown High School.

The pupils in the high school grades should take advantage of these recitals, by attending them. It is hoped the public will attend these recitals.

This is a part of the Teachers' Institute Substitute Plan, and it is hoped to have hearty cooperation from all concerned, in order to carry out these plans successfully.

SCOUTS GIVEN AWARDS AT COURT OF HONOR

Many From Lower End of

Recognition

HELD AT MORRISVILLE

MORRISVILLE, Nov. 10.—"Your honor as a Scout is one of the most sacred obligations that you have as a youth today. Cherish that honor as one of the finest things you possess. When temptations come your way remember your promise and do your best to overcome it as taught by your Scout Oath and Law," said Rev. L. C. Mytton of the Presbyterian Church in one of the most inspiring addresses given to a group of Scouts and Scouters that participated in the Court of Honor.

The Court of Honor was held Sunday evening in the Presbyterian Church, here, to suitably award to Scouts and Scouters their achievement presentations. The church was packed with the members of the Boy Scout movement and many friends and relatives. The anthem by the choir was exceptionally well rendered, which added much to the significance of the occasion.

Presentations were made to a considerable number of boys in the lower part of the county, which includes the Southern Division.

Scout Executive William F. Livermore, Jr., presented to the following boys, second class badges: James B. Cunningham, Troop 17, Andalusia; George Atkins, Langhorne; 19; Benjamin Hagar, Langhorne; 19; George B. Meldrum, Langhorne; 19; Charles Meyers, Troop No. 41, Crofton No. 2; Clarence R. Smith, assistant scoutmaster, Troop 48, Bristol No. 7; George Ogden, Troop 71, Flushing.

N. J. STATE TROOPERS ORDERED TO CEASE PROHIBITION ACTIVITY

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 10.—As soon as it became known yesterday that repeal of the Hobart Act had been approved overwhelmingly at Tuesday's referendum, Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of the State Police, issued orders relieving the troopers of prohibition enforcement duties.

The head of the State Police interpreted the vote for repeal of the State law as making it inoperative at once. The troopers, as a result, have been instructed not to stop cars, make arrests or carry through in court liquor violations. They are ordered further not to take part in service of search warrants in search of liquor.

Colonel Schwarzkopf has informed his men that the attorney general has been asked for an opinion on the department's authority in view of the vote. In the meantime, State Police are warned not to make illegal arrests nor engage in activities outside the department's jurisdiction.

W. C. T. U. Hears Fine Talk On Peace Work

At the W. C. T. U., meeting Tuesday evening, during a short business session, plans for the all-day institute on Saturday were discussed, and announcements made that fruits and jellies for Christmas donations to League Island Hospital may be sent to 601 Radcliffe street.

Miss Mildred Dyer sang the well-known hymn "More Love to Thee O Christ," thus voicing the "present need of this weary world in these troublous times."

After the business Mrs. A. B. Sands, delegate from Bristol to the State convention at York, October 20-25, gave an interesting report of that great gathering of White Ribbon women, 800 filling the church at some sessions, and 1500 at the young people's meeting in the Sunday School room, "thus disproving claims that young people of today have chosen the false Gods of modern times." Mrs. Sands quoted excerpts from the annual address of Mrs. Ella B. Black, state president, and that of Mrs. Booth Demorest, grand-daughter of General Booth of the Salvation Army. "These people whose lives are spent in helping and uplifting the unfortunate well know the blessings and improved conditions under prohibition," states a member of the union.

Miss Mary J. Haines, local director of peace department, then presented her program. After exhibiting one of the 10 Friendship Portfolios which school children are sending as a goodwill message to children of China, Miss Haines presented Miss Marion Longshore, Langhorne, who gave an interesting talk on the present outlook for world peace, citing the great burden under which the United States is staggering in spending $2,000,000 daily for the maintenance of military forces. Miss Longshore gave points on the discussion at the Geneva Conference where new courage and impetus were manifest when President Hoover's proposal was presented June 22, 1932, urging the principal of the Briand-Kellogg Pact under which the nations of the world have agreed that they will use their arms solely for defense.

The following resolution was adopted to be sent to the Honorable Arthur Henderson, president of the General Conference for Reduction and Limitation of Arms, Geneva, Switzerland: "Whereas the Bristol W. C. T. U., is in hearty accord with the firm stand taken by our president, the department of state, and the American delegation to the Geneva Conference, be it resolved that we uphold their acceptance with 41 other nations of the Benes Resolution passed at the Conference, July 23, and hope for still further reduction and limitation of the armaments of the world."

Delicious sandwiches and coffee were served by the social committee.

CONSTANCE MARTIN TO GIVE RECITAL IN PHILA.

At New Century Drawing Room, Wednesday Evening, December 7th

IS A CREATIVE DANCER

A recital of creative dancing will be presented by Constance Martin, of London, at the New Century Drawing Room, 124 S. 12th street, Philadelphia, Wednesday evening, December 7th, at 8:15.

Miss Martin, who is now located at Sarabia, Eddington, and who has appeared in many programs staged at the Sarabia Barn Theatre, studied the Ethel Bret Hart system of rhythm in London and Roumania, where she also taught. She has been a student at the School of Creative Dancing in Chicago, and the Irma Duncan School in New York City.

The well-known dancer has given dance poems and recitals in England, Roumania and the United States, all the dances being of her own creation. Miss Martin seeks to "show that a true love of the arts carried out consistently insures right thinking and right action; therefore dancing, the most expressive of the arts, needing no instrument, but the human form itself, should be a fundamental part of education."

A studio is conducted at 2092 North Broad street, Philadelphia, by Miss Martin, catering to classes of adults and children, and giving private lessons.

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 10.—Complete plans for the celebration of Armistice Day were announced today by Post Adjutant Warren L. Leister, of the A. R. Atkinson, Jr., Post No. 210, American Legion, of Doylestown.

The fourteenth annual banquet of the Atkinson Post will be held at the Doylestown Inn at seven o'clock tonight, when a special program will be presented.

Following the banquet, the annual Armistice Eve ball will be held in the 11th Regiment Armory. The committee in charge expects the largest crowd in the history of Bucks county's most popular social event.

Armistice Day, November 11, will be an all-day celebration in Doylestown for all World War veterans of Bucks and Montgomery counties. On Armistice Day morning at 10:30 there will be a football game on Community Field between Doylestown High and Perkasie-Sellersville High for the scholastic championship of Bucks Co.

Legionnaires will then meet at the Atkinson Post rooms at 12:30 noon. The big district parade will start at 2 p. m., with posts' bugle corps, bands, drill teams and junior organizations in addition to many Doylestown marching units in line of march. Following the parade there will be competition for the various military units on the Doylestown Community Field, where $25 in cash prizes will be awarded.

Following the competition on the afternoon of November 11, lunch will be served at the 11th Regiment Armory by the ladies' auxiliary of the Atkinson Post.

There will be a community meeting in the Court House at 7:30 on the night of November 11, featured by an outstanding address and music by the all-county scholastic orchestra. There will be a public dance in the Armory starting at 8:30 on the night of November 11th.

Heavy Rainfall Makes Streams Exceedingly High

One of the heaviest rainfalls within a few hours' time occurred in this section yesterday and throughout the night.

Streams were swollen, and the heavy rain driven by a strong wind, made driving perilous. The wind last evening drove the rain in sheets before it, and small branches were reported down in some sections. Near Tullytown poles along the highway were reported as leaning in some instances.

The Delaware and smaller streams in this vicinity were swollen, and this morning the Neshaminy Creek was overflowing its banks, making it necessary for motorists to drive through water nearly to the running boards.

The waters of the Delaware inundated wharves here today.

Brief Armistice Service Is Arranged For Here

A brief Armistice service will be conducted by Robert W. Bracken Post, 382, American Legion, at the post home lawn, Radcliffe street, tomorrow at 11 a. m.

The post service will be in charge of Bracken Post commander, Ralph B. Scheffey.

In the afternoon the Bracken Post bugle corps, and the Cadet Corps, will go to Doylestown to participate in the Ninth District Armistice service.

CLASSIFIED ADS are a big help to thrifty people.

GREATEST JUNIOR DRUM CORPS IN THE STATE IS HONORED

Bristol Legion Cadets Tendered Complimentary
Dinner

RECEIVE SILVER CUP

Won Honors As State Junior
Champions at American Legion Convention

Bristol's Pride and Bristol's Own was honored last evening. The American Legion Cadets, the champion junior drum corps of Pennsylvania, for 1932, were tendered a complimentary dinner, and presented with the large silver loving cup for honors won at the Pennsylvania State American Legion Convention held in Pittsburgh last summer.

The presentation followed a dinner served at Zion Lutheran Church hall, the gift being bestowed by Adjutant James J. Deighan, of the department of Pennsylvania. The trophy was accepted by Harry T. Burbank, Cadet commander, and Drum Major "Jimmy" Bolton, the latter in his brief speech of acceptance saying "Thank you in the name of the cadet corps. It is our intention to win again next year."

Congratulatory remarks were bestowed upon this prize winning corps which now numbers 103 members, 37 of whom are uniformed, by representatives of the Bristol Exchange Club and Bristol Lodge of Elks.

V. V. Vansant, president of the Exchanges, said in addressing the gathering of nearly 150, which included members of the Cadet Corps, Bracken Post, Auxiliary and friends: "The entire community is proud of the Cadets. I want to congratulate you not only on your efficiency and on becoming state champions, but on always being willing to render service to the community." Chauncey Stoneback, Jr., exalted ruler of Bristol Elks, congratulated the lads on behalf of the organization he represents, and stated "The Legion has worked hard to bring the Cadets to such efficiency."

A congratulatory message received from Bristol Rotary Club, was read.

State Adjutant Deighan in speaking to the boys during the presentation speech said: "I was on the reviewing stand at Pittsburgh when this outfit passed. You are not one of the greatest corps in Pennsylvania; you are the greatest corps in Pennsylvania. And nothing in my 10 months of service as state adjutant has given me as great pleasure as the presentation of this cup." Then as he bestowed the cup the Adjutant said: "It is a great organization from Mascot 'Jimmy' to Commander Burbank." The inscription on the trophy reads: "First Prize, Class E Drum Corps, The American Legion Department of Pennsylvania, August 19, 1932, Pittsburgh, Pa."

Continuing his remarks the state adjutant urged the members of Bracken Post to be on the job when Congress convenes. He spoke of the work of the Economy League which "intends to reduce compensation of veterans, and curtail some hospitalization work." "If compensation of the veterans is to be reduced, such reduction should start with those at the head of the Economy League," he added, naming the leaders and the amount of compensation received by such.

At his request a program of the evening's affair was presented to Adjutant Deighan, same bearing autographs of all members of the Cadet Corps present. "This will be given a fitting place at State headquarters," the lads were told.

The program was a most interesting one. The toastmaster was Robert Downing, a past commander of the post. The group was welcomed by Ralph B. Scheffey, commander of Bracken Post. Mr. Scheffey reviewed briefly the history of the Cadets, telling of the organization of a bugle corps in 1925 from members of two Boy Scout troops. When it was found it was impossible to have such corps in the Scout organization the lads were taken under the wing of the Bracken Post, and the American Legion Cadet Corps formed. "The post has been rewarded well, as the Cadets are now state champions," added Mr. Scheffey.

In speaking of the needs of the corps, Commander Burbank stated that one hundred per cent cooperation upon the part of the Cadets and their parents is needed. "The purpose of the corps was mentioned as being 'to train boys as good American citizens.' It was mentioned that of the 520 lads who have been affiliated with the corps since it was first organized, but two have had occasion to appear before a justice of the peace, and in those instances, involving automobile accidents, the lads were absolved of all blame. 'Discipline is one of our main things in the corps,' stated the Commander. The boys are automatically dropped from the organization if they do not pass their grades at school, cooperation thus being given the schools by those in charge of the Cadets. The money the boys use to join the Corps must be earned by themselves. Mr. Burbank spoke of the

SAFETY IS OPTIONAL

On first thought there are motorists who will differ with the opinion of the Oklahoma supreme court that operating a motor vehicle is not a hazardous occupation, but a little cogitation will make them of the same opinion, with reservations.

Driving is not dangerous unless one makes it so through carelessness, negligence, inexperience, thoughtlessness or bad judgment. There have been countless persons who have been at the wheel for years without injury to themselves or causing injury to others.

In the estimation of other drivers truck, bus and taxi operators are a menace to all traffic, and yet statistics prove that they have a much better accident record than operators of private automobiles.

The hazards of motoring are largely what the driver makes them. It is possible for the most careful driver to figure in an accident impossible for him to avoid, but in most traffic accidents there is some fault on both sides, though only one may be legally liable. It is true that a wild driver may imperil the most cautious fellow-user of the roads, but that does not alter the general rule that safety is usually optional.

BUSINESS GAINS CONTINUE

Editors of 115 publications who make bi-monthly reports to the Associated Business Papers differ on some things but all agree that November staged a good start and should acquit itself well. October gains have not been counteracted by early November reverses and a few more good signs and developments have been observed.

November can be counted on to stimulate the coal industry into nearly peak activity, but this November has done even better by bringing more than seasonal increases. In the absence of cold weather and in view of the popular tendency this year to buy in small quantities some of this abnormal November coal business must be due to industrial gains.

Electric power has been steadily putting more energy into the upturn of business and industry, and its trend, like other business accelerations, continues. American industry cannot move without electric power.

Completely unexpected of November were definite construction gains, especially after a dull late October; but department store sales and improvements in a number of industries were expected and did not disappoint.

November finds the country making the grade. Can December and January, usually quiet months industrially, keep up the good work?

Weather forecast: Winter.

Roosevelt Ready to Prepare The Budget for New York

tion enforcement was a clear-cut issue in eight States.

Since Federal authorities have declared that State co-operation is necessary for dry law enforcement, the action of these States will be cited in the drive for repeal of national prohibition in Congress.

Before Tuesday's election six States New York, Maryland, Montana, Nevada, Wisconsin and Massachusetts, with a combined population of over 20,000,000 were without State enforcement codes.

The referendum elections, on the basis of return: early today, repealed dry laws in California, Washington, Arizona, Louisiana, New Jersey, Colorado and Oregon, and called for a State control system in Michigan.

In addition, Connecticut voted to call on Congress to repeal prohibition, Wyoming voted for national repeal, and North Dakota apparently removed prohibition from the State constitution. The States in which the State dry laws were at issue have a combined population of 24,000,000.

The referendum elections will more than double the number of States in which beer could be sold as soon as Congress modifies the Volstead law.

The few changes made in the Congressional standings overnight failed to change the tremendous majority of the new Congress which is pledged to vote for a prohibition change, either to carry out the Democratic national platform or to carry out personal pledges.

The new House will have over 300 members pledged to submit repeal or modification of the 18th Amendment and nearly 300 pledged to vote to legalize beer. The Senate majority against prohibition will be smaller, but apparently will be sufficient for action.

On Thanksgiving Day morning, when the Bristol High School football team meets its rival, Morrisville, the members of the Fathers' Association will sell the tickets and police the grounds, just as the members of the Morrisville Fathers' Association did at the game held at Morrisville last year.

BEFORE-NOON SUIT FOR WINTER WEAR IS VERY PLAINLY CUT

By ALICE LANGELIER
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS.—Before-noon suits for fall and winter are perfectly practical and plain-cut, but permeated with the prevailing femininity of the most recent fashions.

They come in the finest French fabrics which preserve the slim and slinky silhouette. One in dark blue cheviot has three small overlapping capes at the top of each sleeve and a scarf edged with beaver which criss-crosses in the front and buttons closely to the throat. It has no belt but a Directorate influence and buttons with large fastenings. The skirt of the same material is very plain and a dark blue hand-knitted sweater is worn with it.

Worth puts a green and beige checked skirt with a plain fitted jacket of hip length to make a charming before-noon trotteur. The checked material binds the jacket and forms the revers. A rust-brown woolen skirt has an accompanying plain pull-over in angora of the same shade and a short soft biscuit-colored lapin jacket and fascinating scarf in soft angora in pale yellow, rust, brown and pale green.

The popular red and blue combination makes another morning ensemble with a thin sweater blouse of red tricot beneath the red belted jacket. Supple jersey de Montecourt in a lovely brown shade makes Chantal's version of the before-noon suit, with blouse in yellow Roumabul which has big pear buttons down the side.

ATTEND MEETING

Mrs. Walter F. Leedom, 254 Radcliffe street, Mrs. Henry Rue, Edgely, and Mrs. Ernest Lawrence, 338 Radcliffe street, on Monday, attended the meeting at the Bellevue Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia, of the Auxiliary of Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association.

SPORTS

HIGH SCHOOL ELEVEN
READY FOR SPRINGFIELD

After receiving a stinging defeat from Fallston High, the local Cardinal and Gray squad is training vigorously for the coming tilt with Springfield High.

This year Springfield has a fairly good team and the final score of today's game will surely be close. The game will be played at Springfield.

After a lay-off on Monday, the squad had a hard work-out yesterday. The line worked on the dummy and also had blocking practice, while the backfield men practiced running through lines. A scrimmage finished practice.

The kickers are all rounding into tip-top shape. Nendorf is getting off some long place-kicks, while Cole and Piazza are putting many drop-kicks between the goal posts.
